

About the author

I am a Christian who has been interested in Bible prophecy from a young age. I was through fear of missing the Lord Jesus Christ's return for His church that caused me to put my trust in Him as my Saviour. Since then I have had an interest in world events and how they relate to the Bible. I endeavour to follow current events in the Middle East and in Israel specifically, which I believe are keys to understanding God's plan for the world as foretold in the Scriptures. I have attended a small fellowship in Bangor, Northern Ireland since I was a child. I enjoy teaching Sunday School and studying the Bible. I have worked as an IT Technician in a double glazing company, and am now a Sales Assistant in a local Christian bookshop .
